7) What did you like most about this engagement?

Comment: 12   No Comment: 2

- Understanding the process
- Understanding how teacher's education is guided
- The clear communication of how decisions and budgets happen from the top level to our school
- Information about school/classroom sizes.
- Felt encouraged to respond.
- Presenters were clear and informative.
- Seeing all the hard work and consideration that goes into supporting the teachers, strategies and ultimately our kids.
- Liked seeing the breakdown of the budget.
- There was details provided and examples shown
- Detailed awareness of the school development plan

- Clear information about plans in the longer and shorter term. That students feel supported at all levels.
- Information presented and collaborative effort.

8) What did you like least about this engagement?

Comment: 13      No Comment: 1

- N/a
- CBE video
- I find the initial video that is shown every year to be a waste of a few minutes.
- Nothing.
- Went over time.
- Learning more about the development plan
- I want to know more I want to see some of this work through the IPP plans
- Technology problems
- I felt bad about the technical issues.
- The content on that screen kept turning off. It was hard to hear people sitting in the audience. I was hoping to be asked more specific questions and not feedback on generic statements.
- The sound was garbled for the in person attendees other than Trevor and Michelle

Other comments:

- Thanks for all your hard work Trevor and Michelle! (And all of the HVS staff)
- Great school.
- Thanks for all your dedication for our children!
- It's very encouraging to know that teachers exchange so frequently about learning development and are encouraged (and guided) in further learning. Wonderful initiatives that will be passed onto the kids.
- 1.5 hours is a big commitment for the meetings for all volunteers, staff and attendees. I hope not all School council meetings go as long.
